God guide my son quotes

There is a woman in my church who is famous for her who says: They will become what you tell them they will be. It refers to our children and how important it is to talk about life in their precious ears. Because if you are given a constant diet of You are a bad guy. You are not good enough. You are impossible! You are naughty. You drive me crazy! You always / never What were you thinking?!. etc., then your inner voice is programmed to believe that those statements are true (WHICH ARE NOT). Our children sin because it is part of their fallen nature. But don't forget that their sin doesn't define them. The precious blood of Christ does it! Nothing – not even that when they have just thrown at the supermarket – can separate them from the love of our Savior (Romans 8:2) – thank you Jesus. <3 The Bible says that Death and Life are in the power of language, (Proverbs 18:21). As mothers, we receive the high vocation of being the voice that our children hear the most while they are young. The older they get, the more voices they will hear (and this world brings a lot of voices that sound like death), so I'm trying to focus now on talking words to my kids that bring life to their hearts. I want them to learn now how to try truthful phrases in their minds when they are tempted by the enemy to go down a destructive mental path. I want my children to know who God says they are, to whom they belong, and how to take possession of the abundant life he has for them. Here are some of the little phrases I've used with my boys over the years, as well as some others I've picked up from some of my closest mom friends. I really pray that this resource will bless your happy home! 20 sentences that give life to children I see God working in your life. (You can read more about this sentence and how I use it HERE.) I love you and Jesus loves you most of all. (I talk this about my children every night! You can see a video and find the details here.) God is always with you! (Matthew 28:20) You are a beloved son of the King! (1 Peter 2:9-10) You are a gift from God. (James 1:17) You can do all things through Christ who gives you strength! (Philippes 4:13) God has a good plan for your life. (Jeremiah 29:11) You are strong in the Lord! (Ephesians 6:10) With God, all things are possible! (Matthew 19:26) You are frighteningly and wonderfully done. (Psalm 139:14) You're loved, no matter what. There's nothing you can do that's going to change that. (Romans 5:8) Jesus loves to spend time with you and so do I. (Luke 10:38-42) Let me pray for/with you. (1 Thessaly 5:17) Trust Jesus with (insert here - this situation, this fear, this desire, etc.). (Proverbs 3:5-6) I love that God helped you (insert here something your son did - be creative, work hard, think of others, do the right thing, bless someone, sacrifice something that means a lot to them, be nice to a brother) today! 28:7) God is worried about every detail of your life. (1 Peter 5:7, 5:7, 10:30, Psalm 139:1-3) There is so much grace for you. (Jews 4:16) I say this by hugging a child who broke down for his sin. I'm sorry – forgive me? (1 John 1:9) This is for when we make mistakes and sins against them - our children MUST know that we are sinners and we need a Savior - just like them, and it's over. (John 19:30) Thank you, God, for this precious boy/girl! (Isaiah 43:4) I am so happy/proud/honored/blessed that God has made me your mother. While I was texting with my pastor's wife on this topic, her teenage children chirped and said that the thing their mom hears a lot when they make inaccurate observations about themselves or the situations they face is a passionate one. This is a lie from the pit of hell! Get satan behind me! (Of course not referring to your son as Satan, but to those who raised the lie.) It seems extreme, but our children must be extreme when it comes to mental paths that do not glorify God or honor His heart for His precious kiddos. We must nip them in the bud and point to Jesus!! How do you talk about your children's lives? Julie ☺ Father God please guide my Son and help me be a better mother to him. He's the Love of my life, but I don't know how to control my frustration and I don't want him to learn it. I want to be a good example to him. I know I asked for your release, and it seems like there's an eternity in my time. I am sure that you will answer this prayer because it is the best for all those involved especially my Son who I want to be a man who fears God and loves God. Please help me make him happy and a good guy. He changes his rebellious heart and give him a heart of obedience and love. And do the same for me. Thank you Dear Father in heaven, I pray for my son Kai. Send him your Holy Spirit. Teach him your ways or Lord. Make him the person you created him to be. Keep him out of danger.
